Abstract: In this article, the management of the educational system, improving the effectiveness of education the role of the teacher, the issue of education, the duties of the teacher in providing knowledge to students, the leader responsibility, about the formation of students' knowledge skills in the educational process information is provided.

Key words: Education, training, leader, school, teacher, pupil, knowledge, skill, qualification, subject, transactional culture.

The issue of education and training has always been relevant. Even in the past, people were educated received and taught. Even today, the activity of educational institutions and educational institutions is the focus of the society in the center. I think that in the future, if the attention to education increases, it will increase does not decrease. Well, let us get acquainted with the representatives of this industry, its participants – subjects we go out. In education, first, it is more correct to mention "learner". If there is a need for education otherwise, it will not be needed. If we look at it from this point of view, the learner as long as there is education.

In the second place, of course, it is permissible to mention the person of "educator". Because directly they introducing the educational content of education, being an interpreter of education to learners is considered.

School - when a child reaches a certain age, he takes him into his arms and gives him education abode currently, students in our society have general secondary education from the first grade to the eleventh grade receives education in school. That is, students spend eleven years of their lives here. The purpose of coming to school is not just to get a certificate, but to build the foundation of the future is to acquire knowledge, skills and abilities. From this point of view, effective organization of education is every education requires responsibility from the participant. The head of the school, the institution, its technical support, is responsible for the safety of students, and the deputy director for educational affairs is a pedagogue supervises the working documents of employees, the order of the teaching process. On spiritual and educational matters, the deputy director is aware of the moral environment of the school, teachers and students he cares about his manners, behavior culture, behavior, upbringing. School pedagogues and they teach students in their specialty. Students have only one task and if this is the case - getting an education, gaining solid knowledge. If we look closely,

Currently, special responsibilities are assigned to teachers and trainers. Because that is the purpose of education

- raising a mature, healthy generation. In this field, he communicates with the student the most the person to be is the teacher. A teacher is not only an ordinary citizen in different countries since ancient times. Call them differently possible: teacher, coach, mentor, teacher, teacher, etc. They all have one the meaning is understood: Intelligent! In fact, teachers are spreaders of knowledge. First to school takes the child by the hand and introduces him to the world while giving him all the knowledge he has.

If we assume that the child is a blank sheet, then the teacher is an example of an artist who depicts various images on it

Education in the school system is carried out at two levels: primary education and higher education.

Primary education includes grades 1-4, and this period requires teachers to be particularly attentive to their work. It requires to be, to approach with responsibility. Because "Knowledge acquired in youth is carved in stone is like a pattern" in the heart of the proverb, how a child learns from his youth, how he acts, it will continue like this in the future. Therefore, first of all, in primary school solid knowledge should be given. After the student finishes the fourth grade, he enters higher education applies to specialized and Presidential schools, and if the educational potential is sufficient, if he gets enough points in the exams, he will study in this school. Now its students' mastery necessary sciences are gradually increasing and becoming more complicated. In addition, this is education

In each subject, expert teachers teach. They want to rate the teacher those who have counted his documents, clothes, places he took in the Olympics, and certificates not necessarily. Pupils are the most impartial and fair judges of the teacher. Two or three mouths with them you will get enough information about any teacher if you talk to them. Request above

Based on the results and my personal observations, teachers should follow the following

I think it is necessary:

- loves children;
- having sufficient knowledge of his field
- To have a culture of dealing;
- Not mixing personal life and professional activity;
- To approach his work responsibly;
- not for others (various commissions and inspectors), but for the future of Uzbekistan realizing that his destiny is in his hands only and only to raise a perfect generation must work.

In short, the future of Uzbekistan is in the hands of the young generation! So today we are the way we teach, the young generation who will learn from us will live like this tomorrow. His school what he learned in his life is considered the main basis throughout his life.
